HINTS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

No attention will be paid to communications unless accompanied with the full name and address of the writer.

Names and addresses of correspondents will not be given to inquirers.

We renew our request that correspondents, in referring to former answers or articles, will be kind enough to name the date of the paper and the page, or the number of the question.

Correspondents whose inquiries do not appear after a reasonable time should repeat them. If not then published, they may conclude that, for good reasons, the Editor declines them.

Persons desiring special information which is purely of a personal character, and not of general interest, should remit from $1 to $5, according to the subject, as we cannot be expected to spend time and labor to obtain such information without remuneration.

Any numbers of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN SUPPLEMENT referred to in these columns may be had at this office. Price 10 cents each.

Correspondents sending samples of minerals, etc., for examination, should be careful to distinctly mark or label their specimens so as to avoid error in their identification.

(1) G. B. M. asks: What solution is used by manufacturers to fasten the caoutchouc on clothes wringers? A. See receipts for marine glue, page 2,510, SUPPLEMENT No. 158.

(2) C. D. R. writes: 1. I am interested in a water ditch for placer mining in the State of Oregon, and I have a question that I have failed to have answered satisfactorily as yet; but I am informed that you have a book that will give me the necessary information. If so, I want it. A. Beardmore's "Hydraulic Tables" will give information on these subjects. 2. I wish to run 150 to 200 inches of water, miner's measure (that is, water running through a 2 inch orifice with 6 inches from the center of the orifice to the level of the water, called a pressure of 6 inches), through a pipe from the side of one hill across a depression to another hill. The water leaves the pipe 20 feet lower than it enters, and has to move 3,200 feet in the pipe, and passes down hill 1 1/2 feet, and up hill 115 feet; thus there is 20 feet pressure. Now, what size pipe will it require to convey across this depression 150 inches of water; also, what sized pipe for 200 inches, and how heavy iron should it be made of? The friction is the thing that bothers. Will it make any difference to make the first half, or the half in which the water goes down hill, a little larger than the other half? A. A miner's inch is equal to the discharge of 1,562 cubic feet per minute under a head of 6 inches over the top of opening, 1 inch square; hence two miner's inches=3.124 cubic feet per minute. According to calculation a 3 1/2 inch diameter pipe, under the conditions given, will discharge 3.7 cubic feet per minute. Your pipe should be same diameter the whole length; and put together so as to have a smooth, even bore, otherwise the pipe should be larger. If the discharge opening is 2 inches square, it is four miner's inches, not two; in which case the pipe should be 3 1/2 inches diameter.
